Your office has requested that the petition be transferred to you because the alien has filed an I-485 requesting adjustment of status in the United States.

The attached petition is hereby returned to the Immigration and Naturalization Service for reconsideration and, if appropriate, revocation. A full explanation with evidence is attached. Please notify the above office of your decision in this matter so that we may complete our processing of the visa case.

The relationship on which the petition is based is not or is no longer valid because the beneficiary is divorced from petitioner.

The petition status requires that the beneficiary be unmarried, and post has determined that the beneficiary is married.

This is an employment-based petition and the beneficiary does not appear to qualify for the visa classification.

The petitioner/beneficiary is now deceased.

The petitioner has withdrawn the petition.
